

ACSUG 400

GSM Online Orientation Foundation

0 Credit Hours

ACSUG 400 is a self-directed online orientation to the GSM masters-level programs. This two-module course introduces graduate students to Saint Xavier University, and to the university's information and learning management systems. Sample of Graham School of Management course content are available to familiarize students with the type of online course work in which they will participate.